Charles L. Craig, who represents Mrs. Bull, was seen at the Hotel Astor last night. He was reticent as to the impor tant facts of the case, but he said that chemists had been interested in the operations which Qualey is alleged to have said he controlled. His process, he told the chemists, made it possible to produce out of twenty tons of limestone fifteen tons of finished asbestos per day thereby netting an immense profit. Discussing the Newark plant, Mr. Crais said it had been built first as a place for the refining of gold and later the announcement was made that it was to be used for the manufacture of the magnesia asbestos. But Mr. Craig adds that it was never used for that purpose.
